

Skidmore Conflict of Interest and Lobbying Disclosure Form for Employees

Every Skidmore College employee has an obligation to act in the best interests of the College when performing his or her job. Outside financial interests and legal commitments should not be permitted to create conflicts of interest that interfere with that primary obligation. Such a conflict of interest exists if an employee has an external financial interest or fiduciary or other legal obligation that reasonably could be seen as creating an incentive for the individual to modify the conduct of his or her College activities or to influence the conduct of others. Conflicts of interest arise from stock ownership, board memberships, consulting relationships, and any activity from which the individual derives legal obligations or expects to receive remuneration from an entity outside the College. Conflicts arise from many ordinary and appropriate activities; the existence of a conflict does not imply wrongdoing on anyone's part. When conflicts do arise, they must be recognized and disclosed, and then eliminated or resolved appropriately. Some relationships may create an appearance of conflict; those, too, are important to eliminate or resolve so that we may maintain public confidence in the integrity of our activities. Additionally, certain lobbying activities directly on behalf of the College must be disclosed.
