

ANNOUNCEMENTS

October 2, 2020

On behalf of the Faculty Development Committee:

It is approaching time for nominations for the Edwin M. Moseley Faculty Lectureship. The deadline is October 23, 2020. Established in 1957, this annual award recognizes a Skidmore faculty member for their outstanding scholarly achievement, artistic accomplishment, academic research, and/or creative work. The recipient of the award gives the Moseley Lecture, one of the college's major public events of the year. While deemed a "lecture," the presentation has no prescribed format: it might center, for example, around a reading, performance or exhibition. The award acknowledges an exemplary level of scholarship and achievement that sets a standard for academic excellence at Skidmore. It is the highest honor that the Skidmore faculty can bestow on one of its own. The online nomination form is at <https://www.skidmore.edu/fdc/awards/moseley/moseley-lecture-nomination.php>